

Have a Product So Sell?

If you have a great product idea and aren't sure how to get started, Passion to Product-The Basics is where I'd point you. A Minnesota Colleague of mine Marcy Nelson Garrison created this phenomenal package. This Self-Study Program will provide answers to your 'how to' questions, offer tips that will save you time and money and connect you to valuable resources! With 4 audio recordings, a 65 page ebook, a product development map, 5 worksheets and 3 pages of resources you will be able to learn at your own pace from product entrepreneurs like yourself as well as industry experts in print production, toys and games and product marketing. This is an excellent course – the resources alone are worth the price. I highly recommend it. Click here for more information
